ADAM DELLAWAY AND ROB NASH JOIN CONTANGO ASSET MANAGEMENT LIMITED

Highly experienced advisor Adam Dellaway is set to join Contango Asset Management Limited (ASX:CGA), after 16 years at Wilsons.

Mr Dellaway will begin as a Senior Dealer and Analyst in January 2017, adding another layer of quality and depth to the growing Investment Team at Contango.

He has worked in a range of different roles at Wilsons, advising both institutional and retail clients, with an excellent track record in trade execution, sales trading and research sales.

Also joining Contango in a senior advisory capacity from late 2016 is Rob Nash, a highly experienced and well-credentialed financial services all-rounder who will help guide the launch of a Sydney office in early 2017.

Mr Nash previously worked with Managing Director and Chief Investment Officer George Boubouras, along with other members of the Contango leadership team, at institutions such as UBS, HSBC, JP Morgan and Credit Suisse.

George Boubouras said that both were strong additions to the Investment Team, with a busy 2017 looming.

“Adam has enjoyed a very successful and well-rounded career path to date, and we expect he will add some very high quality experience and expertise to the Contango offering,” Mr Boubouras said.

“With experience in successful trade executions on both the institutional and retail side, along with strong relationships with many industry stakeholders, Adam is an impressive operator who’ll fit the Contango culture well.

“The implementation of our growth strategy is well advanced, highlighted by some major achievements in 2016, and we don’t intend to slow down next year. Adam will be a fine addition as we look to take some more big strides.”

Mr Dellaway said he was looking forward to a new challenge at Contango, having been attracted by the high quality team, and working amid the various different products and strategies the business was known for.

“I got to know many members of the team when working on the broking side, and I have a lot of respect for what they do. I’m looking forward to contributing to the Contango investment process,” Mr Dellaway said.

“I’ve watched with interest as George has laid a very strong foundation over the past couple of years.

“Contango is well on the way to becoming a major, high profile fund manager and it’s really exciting to be a part of that journey.”

Contango Asset Management Limited is a boutique wholesale and LIC fund manager, with mandates across the entire market capitalisation spectrum.
